Owl Shop

CIGAR LOUNGE & TOBACCONIST

SINCE 1934

The Owl Shop, a New Haven Institution located in the heart of Yale University is a cigar aficionado's landmark in its own right. Originally opened in 1934 by Joseph St. John and his wife, Catherine, who came to America from Greece in 1925, the Owl Shop began as a bookstore, but Joseph quickly began mixing and selling his own tobacco blends which soon became a regional and national success. After the death of her husband, Catherine kept the shop open until 1998, when Glen Greenberg purchased the quaint tobacco shop.

In 1999 Glen acquired a liquor license and in 2006 refurbished the space introducing a robust lineup of live music to the Owl, which can be experienced every Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. Glen has maintained its fine reputation for being one of the best-quality tobacco shops and cigar lounges in the world, and with the assistance of General Manager, Jim Richards, and the entire Owl Shop team, the Owl Shop offers one of the widest varieties of cigars and whiskies from around the world.

Here at the Owl Shop, we welcome the many men, women, novices, and aficionados who choose to take the time to relax and delight in the stress relieving experience of smoking fine hand rolled cigars.

Please don't hesitate to ask any of our staff for assistance. With our extensive cigar, pipe tobacco and liquor selections, we will surely be able to make a recommendation to suit your taste. So, sit back with your favorite cocktail, light up, listen to the music and savor the experience.
